New Heritage Suites Complete Canadian Flair of Ste. Anne's Spa

GRAFTON, Ontario, Canada - Haldimand Hills Spas has teamed up with Hudson's Bay Company, Canada's largest retailer, to create the ultimate in spa accommodations. Guests can experience an entirely new level of elegance and quality in the crowning two suites of Ste. Anne's new multi-million dollar west wing expansion. Each room is 1400 square feet and features Hudson's Bay Company's Signature furniture and décor designs, the company's premier home furnishings line. Enormous wingback chairs surround cozy gas fireplaces, while distinctive antique reproductions throughout the rooms tastefully express Hbc's rich 333-year old history.

The result of this innovative partnership has produced a unique spa experience that is definitively Canadian. Two of Hbc's most prominent historical women, Frances Anne Hopkins and Maud Watt, have received a place of honour in the prestigious new suites at Ste. Anne's. Each lady has had one of the two new Heritage Suites named after her in recognition of the important contributions made to both Hbc and Canada's development. Frances Anne Hopkins, one of Canada's leading female artists during the 1860s, is celebrated for her detailed paintings depicting the rugged Canadian wilderness captured from the vantage point of a fur trade canoe. Equally comfortable in the Canadian bush, Maud Watt is renowned for her early conservation efforts of the 1930s leading to the successful preservation of the beaver population in northern Quebec. Haldimand Hills Spas is proud to pay tribute to these significant women as part of its larger role to support women everywhere who make a difference.

Haldimand Hills Heritage Suites are perfect for celebrating honeymoons, anniversaries and other special occasions, while offering enough room for extended stays as well. Rates start from $437 per person, per night based on double occupancy, which includes three gourmet meals, afternoon tea, $100 for use towards personal training, fitness classes, spa treatments or in our Aftercare Centre. During your stay enjoy unlimited use of fitness facilities, saunas, pools, and participation in a selection of group fitness classes. No tipping is expected, only the taxes are extra.
